The 24th Sunday of Ordinary Time ~ Year B

Reflection for this week

We should be ready to take up our crosses and follow Jesus: There are fundamental questions we ask ourselves, are we ever ready to make sacrifices for what we believe – for Christ’s sake? What can we actually have sacrificed for the sake of the Gospel? Can we offer our ego for peace to reign in our families, marriages or relationships? Jesus’ challenge to all His disciples requires more than a “feel-good” spirituality. A true disciple asks, “Am I willing to sacrifice something for God Who loves me?” The martyrs chose death for the Christian faith to be nurtured.

Endurance wins the race. The best antidote for suffering is endurance. Endurance simply means experiencing and surviving pain or suffering. The scripture makes it clear that, “Only our endurance will win the race for us” (Lk 21:19). Jesus, the suffering servant triumphed upon the cross through endurance. We too, in carrying our different crosses, require endurance to win.

God bless you and your family
